Why do Catholics cover crucifixes and statues during Holy Week?

Veiling of statues and images

While it may appear counterintuitive to veil statues and images during the final weeks of Lent, the Catholic Church recommends this practice to heighten our senses and build within us a longing for Easter Sunday. It is a tradition that should not only be carried out in our local parish, but can also be a fruitful activity in our homes.

Thank you for giving from the heart to Share Lent 2022!

Development and Peace — Caritas Canada thanks you for supporting the People and Planet First campaign with your Share Lent donation. Thanks to your generosity, our parish collected [$ amount]. This sum will help support our sisters and brothers in Africa, Asia, Latin America and the Middle East. If you have not had a chance to donate, there is still time to place your Share Lent envelope in the offertory or to donate online at devp.org/give. Thank you for continuing to pray for all those who are working to build a world of peace and justice.

First of all, we use veils to alert us of the special time that we are in.

When we walk into church and notice everything is covered, we immediately know that something is different. These last two weeks of Lent are meant to be a time of immediate preparation for the Sacred Triduum and these veils are a forceful reminder to get ready.

Secondly, the veils focus our attention on the words being said at Mass.

When we listen to the Passion narrative, our senses are allowed to focus on the striking words from the Gospel and truly enter into the scene.

Third, the Church uses veils to produce a heightened sense of anticipation for Easter Sunday.

This is further actualized when you attend daily Mass and see the veils each day. You don't want them to be there because they are hiding some very beautiful images.

And therein lies the whole point: the veils are not meant to be there forever. The images need to be unveiled; it is unnatural for them to be covered.

The unveiling before the Easter Vigil is a great reminder of our own life on earth. We live in a "veiled" world, in exile from our true home. It is only through our own death that the veil is lifted and we are finally able to see the beauty of everything in our lives.

Tribute flowers are a long tradition at St. Anne

These will beautify the parish throughout the Easter season and into the summer.

The names of those honoured will be published in Easter Season bulletins. If you would like to participate this Easter there are several ways you can do this.

Put your cheque or cash into an envelope marked "FLOWERS" Along with your donation (suggestion is 20$) and your name, include the name of the person/s you wish honoured.

Drop this into the collection basket when you come to Mass. Alternately, you can put your donation in the mail, or drop it off in the parish mailbox out front.

St. Anne's address is: 1701 Cowan Crescent,
Regina, SK S4S 4C4

Remember to include the names of those you wish honored. If you can, it would be helpful if you could add your envelope number to your information.

Thank you!
